

MBA RAG

1. Got my letter the other day
I'm enrolled for an M.B.A
Philosophy, it ain't for me
It's client-focussed competency
I'll value-add to my CV
Open that window of opportunity
I've sourced the product, I'm on my way
I'm doin' an M.B.A.

2. Now I'm going to university
With a core business strategy
No more living on the dole
I'm prepared to pay the toll
I'll outcome-focus my self-control
And crawl right up that greasy pole
Now I'm doing my MBA
I'll make it to the top one day.

Middle eight:

I'll ramp up the game plan
And kick start my career
At the end of the day I'll be okay
And strategise my way right out of here

3. Strategic fit your learning curve
Prioritise your reserve
Empower your core competency
And downsize mediocrity
Learn to share and facilitate
Without ever having to communicate
And you'll know you're on your way
When they haven't got a clue of what you say.

Dialogue with stake holders and
Commit to go the extra mile
You don't have to mean it
Just keep on smiling all the while.

4. I'll always know just what to say
When I get my MBA
I won't talk, but I'll share
Actively listen so they think I care
I'll stay on target, not drop the ball
But I won't give a toss at all
I'm on the fast track and on my way
I'm doing an MBA.

I've benchmarked the bottom line
At the end of the day, I'll be fine
I got my letter the other day
I'm enrolled for an MBA

I've sourced the product
I'm on my way
'Cause I'm trying,
No – I should say buying
Yes I'm buying
An MBA.
